DXmic Pro App

DXmic is the latest generation of ground microphone from HWM. Together with the DXmic Pro App, the process of retrieving and sharing data has been made simple*.

The DXmic Pro app allows the user to share site data immediately and efficiently. Data such as audio files and site reports can be sent remotely, removing the need to return to the office.

Measurements and audio recordings taken with the DXmic Pro can now easily be shared via Email or DataGate™.

The App can also add an accurate GPS location to every measurement and audio recording.

Key Features and Benefits

- Remote reporting: Data can be shared immediately and efficiently, removing the need to travel from site to office.

- Add photos and notes: Helps to show the exact leak position .

- Remote audio sharing: Audio files can be used for training, and expert assistance at distance.

- Intuitive interface: Data is clearly displayed and easy to browse.

- Recording management: Download audio data from the DXmic Pro and share the data easily via email or DataGate upload. Local audio play back is possible when the data file is present.

- Live geotagging : Record the position of a measurement as you take it or manually add a geographical location.

- Accurate location: Visualise your measurements on the map with the ability to modify the location information of your measurements.

- Sharing results: Generate a PDF report summarising the measurements and recordings, which can then be shared via Email or uploaded to DataGate .

*Requires DXmic Pro

 DataGate is HWM's web hosted data server that provides a fast, convenient and secure remote data management solution via the internet.

Applications

The HWM DXmic Pro App requires Bluetooth pairing with a DXmic Pro upgrade, in Android or iOS. Once connected, data is clearly displayed and can be easily browsed.

GPS location information can be automatically added to the measurement if the DXmic Pro is connected with the App.
